

North American Society for Early Phenomenology and the Dietrich von Hildebrand
Legacy Project
In conjunction with the American Catholic Philosophical Association
Loyola University Maryland
Baltimore, Maryland, USA
5-6 November, 2010

Fritz Wenisch, University of Rhode Island

“Is Knowledge of Necessary Essences a priori? A Correction of Kant and an Examination of How Insights Relate to Experience”

John Crosby, Franciscan University of Steubenville

“The Personalism of the Early Phenomenologists: Dietrich von Hildebrand and Max Scheler on Personal Individuality.”

Kimberly Baltzer-Jaray, Wilfred Laurier University

“Notes from the Battlefield: Reinach's Phenomenology of Foreboding”

Guillaume Fréchette, Université du Québec à Montréal

“Munich Phenomenology on Self-Awareness”

Philip Blosser, Sacred Heart Major Seminary

“H.G. Stoker on the Phenomenology of Conscience”

Jason Bell, Mount Allison University

“Max Scheler’s Secret Lectures in Göttingen: As recorded by Winthrop Pickard Bell”