

Indiana Philosophical Association Spring Workshop

and

“Phenomenological Perspectives on Negation” a workshop sponsored by the North American Society for Early Phenomenology

Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne
April 21-22, 2017

Meeting Program

Friday, April 21	Indiana Philosophical Association Science Building 176
11-11:45	Indiana Philosophical Association Business Meeting
11:45-12	Welcome
12:00-12:55	“Ingarden’s Concept of the Reality of Negative States of Affairs” Rob Luzecky, Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne
1:00-1:50	“The Question of Negativity between Hegel and Heidegger” Ferit Güven, Earlham College
2:00-2:50	“Freedom and Negation in Sartre” David Detmer, Purdue University Northwest
3:00-4:20	Keynote Address “Against Negation” Daniel W. Smith Purdue University
5:30-7:30	Dinner at The Hoppy Gnome, downtown Fort Wayne. (We have reserved The Boiler Room.)

Saturday, April 22	Phenomenological Perspectives on Negation Science Building 176
9:30-10:00	Registration and Coffee
10:00-10:50	“The Generativity of Self-Negation as Distinguishing Characteristic of Linguistic Expression” Martin Benson, Stony Brook University
11:00-11:50	“On the Possibility of a Bilateral, Intuitionistic Logic” Tyler Viale, Boston College
12:00-12:50	“Lev Shestov’s Meontology” Frederic Tremblay, St. Petersburg State University
1:00-2:00	Lunch (Provided)
2:00-3:20	Keynote Address “Negation in Consciousness and Metaphysics” Robin D. Rollinger Institute of Philosophy of the Czech Academy of Sciences
3:30-4:20	“Reinach, Daubert & Ingarden: An Ontology of Negative States of Affairs?” Kimberly Baltzer-Jaray, King’s University College at Western University
4:30-5:30	Winners of the IPA Undergraduate Essay Prize “The Phenomenology of Loneliness” Matthew Wyss, Indiana University-Purdue University, Fort Wayne “Defacing the Currency: A Defense of Ancient Cynicism” Daniel Klinestiver, Ball State
5:30	Concluding Remarks